DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

2. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Strukel (US 5919157) in view of Southern, Jr. (US 6712797). Strukel discloses an infusion sleeve to be used in conjunction with a vibrating needle in a phacoemulsification procedure. The system comprises a needle), an infusion sleeve 7, infusion source 9, suction source 5, a needle driver, and a control. See Figure 1. The sleeve is made of a flexible material such as medical grade silicon (Col. 4, Line 45-50).

3. Claims 1, 5 differ from Strukel in calling for the sleeve to terminate in peak and valley formations. Southern teaches a catheter that terminates in peak and valley formations so that the extending portions of the distal end extend to prevent the closure of fluid flow when the end of the catheter abut the wall of the lumen (Col. 2, lines 55-63). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to modify the device of Strukel to include peaks and valleys at the distal end of the lumen as taught by Southern so that fluid can still flow out of the distal end of the catheter when the distal end abuts against a structure.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 11-16 allowed.

Art Unit: 3763

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 3/29/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.
6. Applicant argues that there is no motivation to combine Strukel and Southern. Southern is relied on solely to teach the peak and valley formations of the distal end. Southern discloses that this formation prevents the occlusion of fluid flow during. Applicant further argues that the sleeve of Strukel does not abut against any structure, and therefore, the shape of Southern would not be necessary. When the needle of Strukel is inserted the infusion sleeve will abut against the tissue around the area of penetration, and it is beneficial to be able to maintain fluid flow to this area.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
